EARN YOUR BACHELOR'S DEGREE AT UNION COUNTY COLLEGE IN SCOTCH PLAINS

CRIMINAL JUSTICE • SUPPLY CHAIN AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT • PSYCHOLOGY

Introducing Kean at the University Center in Scotch Plains

Kean University is now offering students with associates degrees the opportunity to climb higher and earn world-class, affordable bachelor's degrees in criminal justice, supply chain and information management and psychology at Union County College's University Center in Scotch Plains.

County college graduates can complete their four-year degrees on a small campus with all the perks of a big University, including world-class professors, a robust curriculum as well as student and career services that help students find worthwhile internships and jobs.

Convenient to U.S. Route 22 and the Garden State Parkway, the new location invites students to take classes close to home and work, with easy in/out parking, in an environment that is designed specifically for transfer students like you.

Benefit from the low tuition rates that led to Kean being named the most affordable University in New Jersey, as well as comprehensive financial aid and scholarship options. Union's newly renovated University Center features:

- ▶ Student lounge
- ▶ Open computer lab
- ▶ Wi-Fi access
- ▶ Free parking adjacent to the University Center

In Scotch Plains, Kean offers academic degree completion programs that can be completed entirely at the new location, as well as:

- ▶ On-site faculty advisors
- ▶ Virtual and on-site student advising and academic services

Kean students taking classes at Union's University Center also can enjoy the benefits of Kean's main campus, including student activities, recreation, fitness centers and more.

B.A. Criminal Justice

Criminal justice is about upholding the law and keeping the community safe. Students receive immersive training in how to identify new potential safety threats and respond nimbly and swiftly to criminal activity in an ever-changing global environment.

- Gain real-world insight into the American legal system and contemporary issues in policing, corrections, victimology and advocacy
- Practice investigation techniques, including crime scene methodologies

B.S. Management

Supply Chain and Information Management option

Management professionals harness capital, resources and people to improve the bottom line for businesses of all kinds. Students gain the specific skills demanded in the labor market around the globe.

- Study strategies and trends to make business decisions for corporations, startups and nonprofits
- Understand human resources, supply chain management and other key business functions

B.A. Psychology

Psychology embraces all aspects of the human experience — from the functions of the brain to the behavior of nations, from child development to care for the elderly. Students acquire a nuanced insight into how the mind works, which allows them to easily transition from the classroom to clinical and corporate settings.

- Study the diagnosis and treatment of psychological conditions
- Understand consumer behavior and acquire research skills
